Re: Stop the killing and abduction of students and teachers in Nigeria

Your Excellency,

I am writing to you on behalf of the Centrale des syndicats du Québec (CSQ) to ask your Government to step up decisive action to restore the right to education throughout your country by ensuring secure and safe schools for teaching and learning, as requested under the UN Education Envoy Gordon Brown's Safe Schools Initiative.

It is unacceptable that 171 teachers and hundreds of students have recently been killed in the States of North East Nigeria. Brutal attacks have increasingly targeted civilians, teachers, and government workers in Nigeria.

CSQ remains seriously concerned about the abduction of 223 schoolgirls from Chibok by Boko Haram. CSQ requests that all stakeholders in Nigeria increase their efforts to bring these girls, as well as all abducted civilians, back to their families. The Nigerian authorities should also provide security in the areas and ensure that the perpetrators of these crimes are brought to justice.

Education is a fundamental human right and the foundation for human fulfilment, peace, sustainable development, economic growth, decent work, gender equality and citizenship. Education is a key contributor to the reduction of inequalities and the eradication of poverty. However, Nigeria has at least 10 million children out-of-school; a number which has increased since 2000 when the Millennium Developments Goals were adopted. CSQ therefore requests that the Government of Nigeria substantially increases the percentage of GDP spent on education to meet the target of 6% as recommended by the United Nations.

CSQ would welcome a positive response to these urgent concerns.

Yours sincerely,

The president,
